Friday's Big Fire.

Another fairly good-sized fire occurred in Stony on Friday night last, when the old Zucht livery barn on First street went up in smoke.

The place had been occupied by The Austin Co. as a storage warehouse, where grain was crashed previously to being shipped to the camps west.

The place was in operation Friday afternoon, and the hands had knocked off for supper shortly after six.

About 7 o'clock Mr Schadek noticed something amiss at the old livery barn, ran over and notified Mr Austin, who was dining at the Doll residence. These two, accompanied by Mr Doll and Mr Hinkel, ran to the barn, which was found to be ablaze.

The fire had gotten a good start, and in a short time the entire interior was as a roaring furnace, and it was found impossible to save anything.

The fire bell was rung, and volunteers proceeded to the scene with the fire apparatus, but had to confine their efforts to saving adjoining property. Two men were engaged to watch the smoldering ruins through the night as a precautionary measure.

There was an insurance on the building, which was owned by Mr Gus Zucht, and there is said to have been an insurance policy on the contents.

The conflagration lit up the countryside, bringing in a large number of farmers about, aside, and in fivers.

It is not thought that the structure will be re-built, just at present.

Visitors From the United States

Growing Popularity of Canada With American Tourists

The Wall Street Journal and other American papers attribute the increasing popularity of Canada with American automobile tourists largely to the sale of intoxicants in some parts of this country. Refreshments of the spirituous kind probably have less to do with attracting the United States tourists than some people imagine, however. Of the 617,000 American cars that entered Canada
last year, 537,000 passed the customs in Ontario and only 43,000 in Quebec and 26,000 in British Columbia.

Of course many of those entering at Ontario cities would go on to Quebec, but it may be assumed that the majority of the tourists were induced to Canada by other attractions than the Quebec and British Columbia liquor laws.—From the Ottawa Journal.

A New Tower Of Babel

Monster Labor Temple Proposed by The Moscow Soviet

Those who laugh at the idea of a history repeating itself will have to reconsider their incredulity when they pause before the latest announcement from the Moscow Soviet, says the Montreal Star. This is nothing less than the construction of a building to have the largest tower in the world,
to cost seventy million dollars, to accommodate several thousands of people, and to be known as a labor palace.

The obvious intention of the Soviet
in planning such an edifice is to divert the attention of the wretched Russian laborer from his present painful condition, and provide him with something that will keep him quiet for another brief space. The Tower of Babel was begun with intentions not very far removed in basic principle from those of the Moscow Soviet. It was never completed, if we are to accept the historic record and the extensive ruin as proof.

But the Moscow temple may very easily be completed, if the Soviet treasury holds out. Moscow will then enjoy the unique distinction of being the city with the record building and the record public suffering. It is doubtless a distinction in which the Soviet will rejoice greatly, but even the dulled intelligence of the inoult will eventually penetrate the pretence.
When it does, the doom of the Soviet regime will be sealed and Russia will start on the road to freedom.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children.
Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrup. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids
the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep.

HOW TO REGAIN YOUR GOOD HEALTH

It Can Be Done Through Keeping the Blood Supply Rich and Pure

There is not a nook or corner in Canada, in the cities, the towns, the villages, on the farms and in the mines and lumber camps, where Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills have not been used, and from one end of the country to the other kind words have been said for this medicine.

You have only to ask your neighbors, and they can tell you of some rheumatism, or nerve-shattered man, some suffering woman, ailing youth or anaemic girl who has been benefited by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For more than a third of a century these pills have been known not only in Canada, but throughout the world as a reliable tonic, blood-enriching medicine.

The success of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is due to the fact that they go to the root of the disease in the blood,
and by making the vital fluid rich,
they strengthen the organs and nerves
of the body. Mr. A. M. Large, Victoria, B. C., adds his testimony to that of thousands of others who have found benefit through the use of this medicine. He says:—"About three years ago I became dreadfully rundown. So much so that I had to stop work altogether, and being a carpenter, and busily engaged, the outlook was gloomy. I became so reduced that I would have to rest even after a short walk. My appetite almost completely failed. The doctor whom I consulted told me I would have to take a prolonged rest, and gave me a bottle of medicine, which, however, did not help me. Then a good friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got a supply and before long felt an improvement. From that on I continued to gain and was able to resume my employment. I continued taking the pills for some time longer and now feel as vigorous as I ever did."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

British M.P.s Impressed With The Imperialistic Spirit To Be Found In Canada

Sir R. Burton Chadwick, M.P., before his departure for England, gave utterance to the following remarks regarding his impressions of Canada:

"I have been in Canada for a short, all too short month, and every day of that month the question has been put to me—'What do you think of Canada?'"

"Well, I am sailing away on the Empress of Scotland, and perhaps some of the many friends who have been so good to me may be interested in my reply to the above question.

I am too old a traveller to be lured into the belief that after a few weeks' sojourn in some place of interest an eager public awaits an account of one's experiences. Less experienced I might fall, so as many have fallen, to the temptation of writing a book, and the world would be enriched and Canada uplifted by something such as—'A Journey Through "Wandering In"—The Awakening Of—or might even rise to the ponderous dignity of—'Canada.'"

In my case, the title "When Winter Comes," would be significant, but perhaps a little indicative also of my in a coal merchant who has been using the slogan in an endeavor to succor Canada in her extremity. I may sell coal, but at least I can sell as a gentleman.

Nor will I attempt to survey the great questions which are before Canada and before the British Government in relation to Canada at the present time. One may spend a lifetime and millions of ink and contribute very little in the attempt to treat these vast subjects if one takes them too widely. I am for the moment a member of the British House of Commons, a privilege of which I am proud, and from the back benches of that historic chamber I take my humble part with some 700 others in the administration, or rather administration, of some of the affairs of all of the four hundred odd million people comprising the Commonwealth of Nations known as the British Empire.

I have only been in Canada for a month, but in that time I have had the great advantage of meeting many Canadians—distinguished and undistinguished—in all walks of life from Prime Minister to laborer—and even golfers, and I have learned a great deal, particularly about Eastern Canada, and I return to London impressed more than ever with the resources, the opportunities, the possibilities, and the untapped wealth of this vast Dominion, but realizing as never before, and as it is not possible to realize looking across from England, two great facts—namely, the magnificent imperialism of the Canadian people and their intense desire for closer relationship, socially and commercially, with the Old Country.

One may be told that one need not look further back than 1914 for more than ample evidence of this, and that it would be perfectly true. But the war is now passing into history, and the terrible trials and hardships of the aftermath through which we are passing are so absorbing that there is danger of our vision being obscured and of our failing to appreciate and respond.

The opportunity to visit Canada comes to relatively few of the forty-five millions of our people, and therefore I feel that those who are fortunate enough to be able to see and learn for themselves, particularly if they are men and women in public life, carry a great responsibility.

An Erratic Bridge
"It was the first time I had ever driven a car," feebly explained the victim of the accident. "I got to going pretty fast and forgot how to stop. I looked ahead and saw a bridge rushing to meet me. I tried to turn right to let the bridge pass and—that is all I know about it."—Country Gentleman.

Wealthy Men To Beggar?—No, I shall not assist you, and you need not envy me my riches. With all my wealth I'm wretched, for I'm a martyr to indigestion.

Beggar?—Well, guv'nor, I've read a lot about indigestion, but I've never had the chance of 'trying it.' All I saks is, guv'nor, gimble the chance!"

Success Of School Fairs

Saskatchewan Organizer Expresses Gratification at Interest Taken in Exhibitions

Gratification is expressed at the interest shown in the school exhibitions in Saskatchewan by H. Saville, organizer of Boys' and Girls' Clubs in its annual report. Approximately 225 annual reports were held this year, which, he says, justifies the statement made by the director of school agriculture that the further development of school exhibitions would be along the lines of better organization and more efficient correlation with the regular school routine, rather than in the increase of numbers.

Price lists at these fairs, says Mr. Saville, varied considerably, but the most suitable prizes in the agricultural classes were those given at Tregurva, including a pure-bred animal, pure seed potatoes and settings of eggs.

Owing to the fall fairs coming at a busy season, in some instances difficulty was experienced in obtaining transportation for livestock, reducing the number shown this year, compared with 1921. The exhibits, however, were of the quality, and most of the animals were shown in splendid condition, the calf exhibit at Carleton Place, serving special mention, declares Mr. Saville, in his report.

The former practice of exhibiting the largest specimens of vegetables obtainable is gradually disappearing, says the organizer, who expresses the opinion that the children now are paying greater attention to quality, and realize that size in such cases is not a very important consideration. In concluding his report, Mr. Saville expressed further gratification in the fact that the public is realizing that the school exhibitions are not an activity for teachers only but a community organization; at the extent to which boys' and girls' club rules have been adopted by the leading exhibitions, and "the extent to which the school exhibition is being made a vital part of the educational programme of every wide-awake community."

Home For Drug Addicts

Administrator of Narcotic Drugs Act in Manitoba Estimates Cost at $100,000

Establishing a farm where dope users may be taken and treated, and the advisability of allowing only one retail drug store to sell narcotics on a form of prescription provided by the administration of the law, was advocated by D. J. McConnell, administrator of the Narcotic Drugs Act in Manitoba.

He declared the situation in Manitoba was good, in comparison with any other province in the Dominion or in the United States. Mr. McConnell estimated the number of dope fiends in Winnipeg at between 85 and 100 persons. There was approximately 15 in prison at the present time, but the system of placing narcotic users in hospitals and had shown their powerlessness to obtain permanent cures.

The proposition to buy and equip a farm for the housing of drug addicts would cost in the neighborhood of $100,000, and it is hoped to get the cooperation of both Provincial and Federal Governments.

Breakfast and Breakfast
A majority of American doctors have subscribed to the opinion that big breakfasts are good for us. May I remind them that an American who enjoyed the friendship of Ralph Waldo Emerson declared that the habit of eating "pie for breakfast" was unquestionably the cause of the premature decay of that eminent philosopher's mental powers?—London Sunday Pictorial.

Complete Retraction
We wish to apologize to Mrs. Orlando Overlook. In our paper last week we had as a heading, "Mrs. Overlook's Big Feet." The word we had meant to have used was a French word pronounced the same way but spelled fete. It means a celebration and is considered a very tough word.—Wilmington, N.D., Item.

Language of the Sea

Many of Our Common Expressions Are Nautical Terms

Describing a man's conduct in business, a judge said it was obvious that the man in question was fond of "sailing too close to the wind." The judge used a nautical term pure and simple. When a vessel sails too close to the wind her progress is stopped, she drifts away from her course, and trouble is bound to follow.

Often we talk of a man "bailing from" such and such a country. This is a term used at sea when vessels "speak" to one another by means of flags. A man in difficulties is described as "out of his depth," or having "lost his bearings." Both terms are understood at sea to mean that a vessel is prevented by something from keeping a safe course.

When a person wants to know another's thoughts, he "sounds" him. That is just what a vessel does if she wants to know where she is—she sounds with a line and lead.

If a man feels that he is losing ground he tries to "make up leeway." "Leeway" is the distance lost to windward when sailing to windward, through her hull slipping out of the wind's track. Such a distance of leeway must be made up by skilful manoeuvring.

"On one's beam ends," "low ebb," and "at loggerheads" are common expressions which have the tang of the salt sea in them. We use them without thinking of their origin.

Four Million New Trees

Fair Sized Forest For Every Farm Is The Objective

Distribution of four million trees, enough to constitute a fair sized forest, in the spring programme of the forestry department, for which Mr. James McLean, the superintendent, and his helpers are preparing. The objective of the leaders of afforestation is a plantation of five or six hundred, on every quarter section. There can be no exaggeration of the value of trees to any community. It is not as timber that Saskatchewan needs them but as pleasant variations of the prairie flatness and as protection to crops which suffer annually from wind.—Saskatoon Star.

Quality Of Immigrants That Are Needed For The British Dominions

Gibraltar As Aviation Base

Spanish Aviation Magazine Says Historic Rock Will Become Huge Air Station

That Great Britain plans to make Gibraltar the most formidable base for aviation in the whole world is stated by the Spanish aviation magazine, Aves.

"The British," says this journal, "have of recent years laid much stress on the fact that, owing to changed conditions of modern warfare, both on land and sea, Gibraltar, to a great extent, has lost its former strategic importance. But the historic rock now enters a new phase. British engineers are busy planning the transformation of Gibraltar into a huge subterranean air station. The hillside will be tunneled in all directions, with steel pillars in which great fleets of aeroplanes and seaplanes will be in absolute safety from enemy attack. Huge oil tanks, repair shops, bomb and aerial torpedo stores will be complete in the mighty arsenal."

"In the centre of the rock a large hall will house the planes, with galleries running in all directions to outside landing stations. There will be several tiers connected with each other by powerful elevators. This plan will enable the British to concentrate the largest air fleet ever seen in the world in a place of absolute safety, ready at any moment to rally forth to support naval squadron or undertake offensive over a very wide radius of action."

"Gibraltar will thus regain its former importance as a strategic base, and again become the crouching lion against whom nobody will dare attempt to dispute British sovereignty over the columns of Hercules."

Stella Tells Pimble About a Harmless American Snake.

HAT'S 'Coachwhip Snake,' Stella," asked Pimble of the Wishing Fairy, who lives at the End-of-the-Earth with her four Brownies, Pimble, Snoutless, Kinkajou and Lorykina.

"It's easy to know where you have been," laughed the Fairy, instead of answering his question.

"Where?" he questioned. "I'll give you three guesses."

"I don't need three; I all need is one," she returned. "You have been in the middle part of the United States. Am I right?"

"You certainly are!" and Pimble's eyes were wide with astonishment. "But just how did you know?"

"Because 'Coachwhip' is a nickname the Indians and Negroes in those States have for a certain 'Black snake' that is also known as a 'Whiplike snake.' The Fairy burst out laughing at the little Brownie's expression. "You see," she said, "it was easy to guess. Come, sit down by me," she added, "and I'll tell you about it. The Whiplike snake of India and the Malay countries are long, slender, whiplike green tree serpents. They are poisonous, and the natives even claim that they dart straight at the eyes of people passing them. But of course this is nonsense. They are protected among the grasses and leaves by their green coloring as well as their strangely quiet way of gliding through the bushes without causing a single leaf to even quiver. Now, the Whiplike snake of the United States is entirely a different thing. To begin with," Stella explained, "it is black instead of green, and the natives there are convinced that if you follow and tease it it will turn and whip and lash you with its tail—therefore its nickname. In spite of the fact," she added, "that it is absolutely harmless and in no way poisonous, no one that I know of has shown any particular enthusiasm about taming it."

"I should think not," cried Pimble, who is mortally afraid of any and all snakes.

"The Whiplike snake," Stella continued, as she threw an arm around the frightened Brownie, "are quite different from the parent. They are pale gray above with big brown blotches on the back and lots of black spots on the sides. When they are a year old they grow much darker, and these markings are not as clear as before. When two years old they are just as shiny black as their mother."

"The reason people so often fear these snakes is that when they are angry they do thrash the ground around them with the tail, but as they can only reach a couple of feet they cannot hurt anyone. They feed on frogs, birds and smaller snakes and often climb trees to rob nests of the eggs."

"As for their own eggs," Stella continued after a pause, "about twenty to twenty-five are laid in soft, moist soil, on sunny banks or under flat stones in June and July."

"Slender, oblong and snow white. If you should touch one you would see that its silvery skin feels as though it were covered with coarse bits of sand."

"Other snakes' eggs seldom have this kind of roughness to the touch. It's quite distinctive to the eggs of a Black or Whiplike snake."

"Goodness," would not touch them. "Let's talk of something else," said Pimble.

The Wishing Fairy smiled, for she is very fond of snakes.

Examination of the figures presenting the density of the population in various countries, while revealing the advantage of a more equitable distribution, also reveals that the countries at the head of the list are by no means those that complain of the consequent pressure. China is usually quoted as having the most congested population, but it really is not in that position. The distinction belongs to Belgium, with 666.22 inhabitants to the square mile, yet no one hears Belgium complaining that it must ship some of its offspring to other lands. Neither is anything of that kind heard from Holland, second only to Belgium as the most closely settled country with 517 to the square mile. Third is Great Britain, with 389 to the square mile, this, however, being rather misleading. England and Wales, together, in 1911 had 618 persons to the square mile, and England alone, according to the census of last year, has now over 700 to the square mile, more even than Belgium. Japan is much more densely populated than China, with its 333 to the square mile, against the 99.6 of China. Australia is the least populated country in the world with less than 30 persons to the square mile. Its 5,434,000 inhabitants, living largely along the eastern and southern coast line, Canada has 2.45 inhabitants to the square mile, chiefly along the southern belt adjacent to the United States, which has only 25 persons to the square mile.

Canada, Australia and the United States can all stand for a considerable increase of population, but the British Dominions only want immigrants who will go on the land or, in the case of women, who will accept domestic service. Their capacity to absorb newcomers who want work in the populous centres or in manufacturing industries is limited, and they are both promoting schemes to attract the class of immigrants they can handle. The United States has passed a somewhat arbitrary law limiting the quota of immigrants from each nation, a rule that is working considerable hardship in many cases, besides restricting materially the entry of unskilled laborers. This latter phase of the immigration law is creating much apprehension among the employers of this class of labor and among economic students and writers. They point out that native-born Americans, even those whose parents were originally immigrants from the countries whence the unskilled workers come, do not expect to take up common manual labor such as is needed in the steel industry, the mines and on the railroads. Lack of immigrants and consequent curtailment of the supply of unskilled workers, it is argued, will raise the general level of industrial output at the expense of United States consumers and exporters.

How Typewriter Keyboard Was Planned

Reason Keys Were Not Set in Alphabetical Order

It is a question of speed in working. Certain letters and combinations of letters are used more frequently by the others, and these are arranged in the most convenient places in the middle of the keyboard. Around the edges are the letters and characters which are used less frequently. The typist who types correctly uses all his (or her) fingers. It is almost impossible to get up speed without doing this.

Certain letters are allotted to each finger, and, when the keyboard was planned, care had to be taken to see that the strongest fingers had charge of the letters most frequently used. Finally—a very important point—the keyboard had to be arranged so that there was no danger of "collisions" between the type-bars as they were constantly rising and dropping.

"Out after hours again, hey?" said the father.

"Only ten minutes late," replied his son.

"Well, go at once to your room, sir, look yourself in, and bring me the key." This thoughtlessness must be checked."

Most cases of rheumatism arise from congestion. Apply Sloan's. Don't rub. It penetrates to the sore spot, starting the blood circulating. This reduces painful congestion—the inflammation vanishes.

Try Sloan's on sprained, bruised muscles, on aching back and neuritis. Try it on that "cold in the chest."

"What was the most interesting case that you ever nursed?" I asked. "The one that introduced me to the Bar," returned Mrs. Bingham promptly. "Did Mary not tell you how I meet my husband?" "No," I replied. "Please tell me. I hope I am not inquisitive, but I do love 'truly' stories just as much as Sunny does."

"It is a wonder that Mary did not mention it," Mrs. Bingham began. "She never forgets to remind me of the fact that I broke all my solemn vows and married a patient."

"Seven years ago this summer I was visiting Dr. and Mrs. Randall in Carbon City, when one day a call came for the doctor to go out to see a man who had been badly hurt while breaking a young horse. The doctor was away all night and when he came back he told Mrs. Randall and me what he had found—a man with a leg broken in two places, a dislocated shoulder, and bruises from head to foot. That man was Mr. Bingham. The doctor knew him slightly and so did Mrs. Randall, and they were plainly worried to think that he could not possibly receive proper attention. So in a fit of temporary aberration I volunteered to go out to the ranch and nurse him! There was not another nurse closer than Medicine Hat, and the doctor, manlike, jumped at my offer, in spite of the objections of his wife. Before I had time to change my mind he had 'phoned to the hotel and told Don Livingsome to call for me on his way home (Don had come in with the doctor for some greatly needed sickroom supplies; I had not met him before), given me numerous directions and some warnings, and hurried off to another case, leaving me to pack my suitcase in fear and trembling."

SAVED HER FROM AN OPERATION

So Thinks Mrs. Tracey of Ontario, Regarding Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Knightsington, Ontario—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the change of life for troubles that women often have at that time. I had not been well for a year and was not really able to do my work. A friend who had taken the Vegetable Compound herself recommended it to me and I think it saved me from an operation. I highly recommend it to all women who have troubles like mine, and am willing for you to use my testimonial."—Mrs. DORIS J. TRACEY, Knightsington, Ontario.

Some female troubles may through neglect reach a stage when an operation is necessary. But the more common ailments are not caused by serious displacements, tumors or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same. When disturbing symptoms first appear take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles.

W. N. U. 1446

"If I had retained any illusions regarding my profession I should have lost them immediately upon seeing my patient and his surroundings. The surroundings were the worst—for in spite of the fact that Jack's distinguished countenance was more or less obscured by a three days' growth of beard, he looked quite safe and harmless." But he and Don lived in the bunk-house with the men, and the place was hot and sticky, and stuffy with stale tobacco-smoke—imagine a sick man in such a sick-room! I must confess that I have been in many houses lots of time, houses where several servants were kept, for the bunk-house was clean in a primitive, masculine way.

"Secure in my uniform, I assumed command at once, and inside of ten minutes had Don and the men well in hand. Dr. Randall had told me to have the men set up a tent for me and my patient, and it was not long before this was done. Moving the patient was not so easy a task—I suppose it hurt his dignity to be carried on a cot; but finally this too was accomplished.

"Westerner as I am, I had never before slept outside, and the first night in the tent was not strictly enjoyable. My patient was restless and feverish, so I was up several times and each time I went back to my side of the curtain it was harder to go to sleep than the time before. And when I got up in the morning a garter-snake was curled neatly under my bed!"

I drew a boot at it and I watched it wriggle away. I pined for home and mother. "The two weeks I was at the ranch I never saw a woman, except once when Mrs. Randall came out with the doctor. But the doctors were in compensation; it was lovely to see them falling over each other to do things for me, and Don was a tower of strength in himself. Mr. Bingham says that he is still jealous of Don!"

"For the first few days Jack was a model patient. Then he had a shave, and at once became cross. Really, cross is no name for the way he behaved! He had never been ill a day in his life, and the enforced quiet told on his nerves, I suppose; and then, too, his leg had been so long unset before the doctor reached him that there was considerable inflammation, so he had a great deal of pain. You may think that he is quiet and not given to unnecessary speech, but I can assure you that at times his vocabulary is nothing short of marvellous."

"At the end of two weeks Dr. Randall decided that the men could in future do all that was necessary for my patient, so I went back to Carbon City. I thought at that time that I never wanted to see a ranch again, but—"

"You—fearful your mind?" I suggested, startled that he was not going to hear the end of the story.

"No, I didn't," Mr. Bingham changed it for me," Mrs. Bingham replied. "He wrote every week, and made numerous 'business trips' to Winnipeg after I went home, and at last I had to marry him to get rid of him."

The Bingham are not noticeably sentimental. "Four weeks from the day I went into quarantine Mrs. Bingham let me sit out on the balcony. Mr. Bingham and Sunny, Mrs. Davidson and Mr. Livingsome stood on the ground below—Bonnie and Juliet up to date, and we all talked at once until 'the nurse' ordered me back to my little bed. From that time on I went out every day, and almost before I knew it two weeks had passed and I was free once more."

We had a flurry of snow yesterday, but the sun is pleasantly frosty, but the sunshine is as bright as ever. I have had a drive every day since I came out of quarantine, but I am not yet allowed to ride. I am afraid that Cupid will grow fat and lazy. I had been counting on sleigh-rides, but they tell me that the little bit of snow that does fall here never lasts long enough to make good sleighing. The hills are scarcely browner than when I came; nothing but the colder air and the absence of flowers mark the change from summer to winter. That is hardly true, though; there is a subtle and indefinable silence which tells that Nature is sleeping—what a very poetical sentence for Elmor to be guilty of! After all, the silence may only mean that the flies no longer buzz, the mosquitoes no longer sing, and the crickets no longer chirp.

Their mountain physique and their military traditions make them formidable adversaries, as the Greeks found to their cost.

Photographs By Radio

It may soon be possible to send photographs by radio to all parts of the world. In England a radio company has been conducting experiments and photographs have been received by radio. The invention is still in the experimental stage. The pictures which have been received by General Radio Company were wirelessly direct on to a specially made sensitive celluloid film, which was afterward developed.

Premier Bonar Law Announces Personnel Of His New Cabinet

London.—Premier Bonar Law has issued the list of the remaining officers of his Government, in which there is again a fair infusion of members of the House of Lords. His appointment of a minister of pensions does not necessarily mean that he has yielded to the Laborite clamor against the proposed abolition of that ministry, but is considered more likely a merely formal appointment in order to carry on the work until the ministry can be abolished by legislation. Agitation against abolition of the pensions ministry, however, is gaining ground.

Sir Montagu Barlow, who was parliamentary secretary to the Labor ministry in the Lloyd George cabinet, becomes—minister of labor, and the pensions portfolio is taken by Major George Clement Tyron, who was also a parliamentary secretary under the Lloyd George regime, being connected with the ministry which he is now to lead. Sir Samuel Hoare is appointed air minister, and Neville Chamberlain, M.P., a brother of Right Hon. Austen Chamberlain, and who has just recently returned from a visit to Canada and the United States, as postmaster-general.

Hurry Mother! A teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup" now will thoroughly clean the little bowels and in a few hours you have a well, playful child again. Even a cross, feverish, constipated child loves its "fruity" taste, and mothers can rest easy because it never fails to work all the sour bile and poisons right out of the stomach and bowels without griping or upsetting the child.

Tell your druggist you want only the genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother, you must say "California." Refuse any imitation.

No Reciprocity Treaty

U.S. Senator Does Not Expect Reciprocity Pact With Dominion
Washington.—No reciprocity treaty with Canada is likely to be brought about, according to Senator McCumber, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. He points out that the tariff act makes no provision for reciprocity, and that a special treaty would be needed. He doubts whether this could be arranged or ratified by the Senate.

Senator McCumber does not believe the tariff law will seriously cut down importation, and predicts it will not seriously divert Canadian trade from the United States.

Hard Winter Facing Germany in Opinion of Chancellor Wirth
Berlin.—Chancellor Wirth received members of the reparations commission and, in welcoming them, expressed special pleasure at seeing M. Barthou as the new chairman.

Dr. Wirth declared that the country was confronted with a winter of starvation and cold, as there was a shortage of food and coal. Stabilization of the mark, in his opinion, was the first problem requiring solution. Only speedy action, he said, could save the situation and Germany's productive capacity.

Mrs. Ervin W. Stairs, East Waterville, N.Y., writes:—"I have raised a family of ten children and have always used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for summer complaint, and it has never failed."

Four years ago, when the cholera was about, some of my neighbors called in the doctor, but could get no relief. I told them about "Dr. Fowler's," and after taking it, they were soon well again. I also used it for two of my own children at the same time when they were passing blood, and a few doses soon made them well."

A Golden Wedding.

Recently a very interesting gathering took place at the home of Mr and Mrs Kreye Sr. On Sept. 19, 1872, these two worthies were wedded,
and it was to celebrate their golden wedding that a large number of friends bled themselves from the Stony Plain district to shew their esteem and appreciation.

It was pleasing to note that the entire family of Mr and Mrs Kreye, together with their grandchildren were present, and these were photographed in a group. This will, no doubt, form a treasured remembrance to their descendants thru the passing years.

In the group besides the "bride and groom" were Mr and Mrs August Kreye and their four boys; Mr and Mrs Fred Kreye with their three boys; Mrs Sam Dean (daughter) and Mr Sam Dean and their 4 children—3 boys and a girl; Mrs McDougall (daughter) and Mr McDougall, with their 4 boys.

It is interesting to note that the boys very much predominate, there being 14 boys and 1 girl among the grandchildren.

Mrs Kreye came from the old country in 1867 and Mr Kreye in the spring of the following year. They settled in the States, where Mr Kreye engaged extensively in the cattle buying business.

They came to Canada from Hooper, Dodge County, Nebraska, in 1900 and located on their present farm, which they homesteaded.

Needless to say, they were real pioneers, and carved out their farm from surroundings which were very different from what they are today.
They have been successful,
and their sons and daughters
have also shown themselves worthy of their sires.

Mr Kreye is enjoying life
at the ripe age of 87, and Mrs Kreye, somewhat his junior, is active and spry.

In addition to those from Stony Plain town, quite a few motored down from Duffield, and everybody enjoyed the lavish hospitality meted out to the guests.

Assemblyman W M Wash-
burn made a very eulogistic
speech in addition to others, casion.

Tanlac Does The Work, States Rickson

Still another who vouches for the fact that "Tanlac makes you eat better, sleep better, work better and feel better," is Jerry Rickson, 1001, 4th St. West, Calgary, Alberta, Canada. Mr. Rickson said:

"For four years I was in a terribly run-down condition, and kept getting worse. I was in such bad shape I fell off from a hundred and fifty-eight pounds to a humped and thirty, and I told you I took a mighty effort for me to keep on working. My nerves were very shaky, and I got but very little rest nights. My appetite dwindled to almost nothing and even when I did venture to eat a regular meal it did me no good whatever."

"I saw by the papers where Tanlac was being praised by lots of people so I started taking it, and I sure am glad I did. Five bottles put me in fine shape again. I eat hearty, sleep soundly, and have gained back a lot of my lost weight. My nerves were the work without a doubt, and I am more than glad to recommend it."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

To Care For Tubercular Women

Saskatchewan Council of Women Will Help to Raise Fund of $50,000

All the women of Saskatchewan, in whatever part of the province, are invited to lend a hand in raising a fund of $50,000 for taking care of 50-tubercular women belonging to the province. The Provincial Council of Women has decided to make an effort to raise this sum each year to help along the work of the Sanatorium.

A. B. Cook, Managing Director of the Sanatorium, addressed a meeting of the Provincial Council of Women, telling of the huge programme ahead of the Saskatchewan Anti-Tubercular League, if it is to get a Sanatorium built at Saskatoon, and one at Regina within the next two or three years, in addition to the magnificent amount of health work that is being done at the Sanatorium at Fort Qu'Appelle.

He asked if the P.C.W. thought it likely the women of Saskatchewan had sufficient sympathy with the tubercular, to make them willing to try to get money enough together to pay for the constant care of fifty women who have tuberculosis.

The Provincial Council of Women believed that the ladies of the province would be proud to have the chance to care for fifty mothers who have not money enough to get treatment for themselves. So Mr. Cook was promised that the P.C.W. will try to make the need-known, and that is how the $50,000 Fund for Fifty Mothers is starting.

Every woman and every woman's club, or Sunday school class, or organization is invited to help with it. Mrs. F. W. Bates, 3668 Angus Street, Regina, is the P.C.W. Treasurer of the fund. Prompt acknowledgment will be sent to everyone who sends to her even the sum of a dollar for this fund; or if donations are sent direct to Mr. Cook at the Sanatorium, Fort Qu'Appelle, for the Fund for Fifty Mothers, a receipt will be mailed at once to the sender.

Special Crop of Apples

During the year that closed on June 1, the Wenatchee Valley in the State of Washington shipped thirteen thousand carloads of apples, or one apple for almost every inhabitant of the world. It is reckoned that the yield this year will be one-tenth less. The prosperity of the Wenatchee apple district under its system of co-operative effort should be an example to other communities that are adapted by soil and climate to produce a special crop.

GUARD THE CHILDREN FROM AUTUMN COLDS

The Fall is the most severe season of the year for colds—one day warm, the next cold and wet, and unless the mother is on her guard, the little ones are seized with colds that may hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mothers' best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional dose of the Tablets to prevent colds, or if it does come on suddenly their prompt use will relieve the baby. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A CRUSADE FOR GOOD HEALTH.

Stony Plain Town Council.

Stony Plain Town Council held its regular meeting on Thursday last, Nov. 2, with all the members present but one.

Fire and Pound Committee reported on the Ashean question, saying that an order had been placed with Schadeck & Barth for 20, and these will be sold at $3.25 apiece. Arrangements had been made with the Doll Cartage Co. to remove these, when full, at 15c. a can.

A large number of accounts—including those in connection with the concrete tanks—were passed and ordered paid, if found correct. An account from the School Board Secretary for repairs made to the Town Hall property, was laid over.

A communication was read from the Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs, notifying Council re new Pound Act, as the regulations regarding same come into force Dec. 1. This matter was referred to a committee consisting of the Mayor and the Pound Committee, to draft a new bylaw.

Some discussion took place on the matter of purchasing the requisite fire-fighting equipment for the town. Mr Hardwick reported he had been in communication with Chief Davis, of the Edmonton Fire Brigade, regarding some discarded equipment which the City has for sale. A motion carried that data be got from the Fairbanks-Morse Co., the Watrous Engine Co., and the Edmonton Fire Dept. regarding engines, reels and other equipment.

The ancient grievance of Stony Plain, against the old Provincial Government, the Utilities Commission, the Townsite Co. et al, with regard to the raw deal the town got, in its effort to collect taxes on property owned by the Townsite Co., was again on the Agenda. It seems that some years ago the town pressed a claim for some $7000 arrears of taxes, and, after the claim had gone thru numerous stages before the Courts and the Utilities Com., was finally pared down to $1250, and a check for this amount was recently forwarded to Council. As there seemed nothing else to do, a motion carried that the check be accepted and the matter settled. The bill of law costs in connection with the case was ordered to be paid the Edmonton firm of lawyers.

Dr Henry was appointed meet inspector, in succession to Dr Maynard.

Councillor Armbruster was asked to inquire into lighting Main Street and give Council figures on probable cost of 5 or 8 lights for same.

Stony Plain and District

Meet me at the Big Doings at Holborn tomorrow night.

A case which engaged the attention of the local court on Tuesday was the one of the impounding of hogs running at large. A farmer at Glory-Hills had been bothered for some time past by the neighbor's hogs trespassing on his place. On Saturday last, he enclosed 8 of these in his barn and notified the owner, claiming damage. The owner, protested the amount of damage claimed, and at the court the claim was reduced, the impounder paying the costs of the court.

Another sudden change has taken place in the personnel of the Muir Lake School Board. It appears that Mr. Jenkins, a member of the Board and acting Secretary, had resigned, and the Department of Education has placed an official Trustee in charge. It appears further that the effort to oust the old Secretary and make him give up possession of the books must have had something to do with the reversal to the old order.

The new School at Clymont will be opened November 15.

The Road gang working on the the Entwistle Dryton Valley have about finished their labors for the season.

Hansen's Corners is the name of a new U. F. A. local which organized last week by W. M. Washburn, M. L. A. There are seven members, and the officers are Chas. Clarke and C. S. Clausen.

Stony Plain Consolidated.

School Board No. 52 trustees met Friday evening, in regular monthly conclave.

A report dealing with the higher grades at the local school was read from High School Inspector McKee.

A large number of accounts were passed, including that for repairs to the building recently made by Contractor Moyer.

The matter of disposing of the vans, gas lorry and sleighs belonging to the Board, and recently used in the conveyance of pupils from Stony Plain Centre to the Consolidated school was next on, and the Secretary was instructed to prepare bills announcing a public auction of these articles.

Principal Clarke was in attendance during part of the session.

Thanksgiving Service.

In the presence of a large congregation on Sunday last special thanksgiving service was held at the Methodist Church which was tastefully decorated for the occasion with sheaves of grain, fruit, flowers, vegetables.

Service was conducted by Rev F E Wilson and the sermon was preached by Rev L. McTavish, Edmonton, who delivered a stirring address. The praise was led by the choir, which tastefully rendered the anthem "Ye shall dwell in the land" and a solo "He hath redeemed me" was sung by Mr Wetmore of Edmonton.
